Privacy Policy

As used in this Privacy Policy, the words “Chrysalid”, “we” and “us” refer to Chrysalid Financial, LLC and the words “you”, “your” and “Client” refer to you as either a client or prospective client of our firm.

Chrysalid recognizes that our relationships with current and prospective clients are based on integrity and trust. We work hard to maintain your privacy and to preserve the private nature of our relationship with you. We place the highest value on the information you share with us. Chrysalid will not disclose your personal information to anyone unless it is required by law or at your direction. We will not sell your personal information.

We want our clients to understand what information we collect, how we use it, and how we protect your personal information.

Why We Collect Your Information

We gather information about you so that we can:

- Help design and implement the investment and financial planning related services we provide you; and
- Comply with the Federal and State laws and regulations that govern us.

What Information We Collect and Maintain

We may collect the following types of “nonpublic personal information” (“NPI”) about you:

- Information from our initial meeting or subsequent consultations about your identity, such as your name, address, social security number, date of birth, and financial information;
- Information that we generate to service your financial needs; and
- Information that we may receive from third parties in connection with the services we provide you.

What Information We Disclose

We are permitted by law to disclose nonpublic information about you to unaffiliated third parties in certain circumstances. Chrysalid may disclose client's NPI: (1) to individuals and/or entities not affiliated with Chrysalid, including, but not limited to third-parties that assist in the supervision or management of your account(s) (i.e., sub-advisers, account custodian, record keeper, attorney, etc.); (2) to service providers contracted by us in order for us to perform the duties in furtherance of the client's engagement with Chrysalid (i.e. client management systems, archiving technology vendors, cloud service providers, etc.); (3) to your authorized representative or power of attorney; (4) when we receive your prior consent; (5) in connection with a proposed or actual sale, merger, or transfer of all or a portion of our business; and (6) as otherwise permitted to do so in accordance with the parameters of applicable federal and/or state privacy regulations.

Cookies

Cookies are files with a small amount of data which may include an anonymous unique identifier. We may use cookies and similar tracking technologies to collect and track information and to improve and analyze our site. Cookies are sent to your browser from a website and stored on your device (computer or mobile device). Most browsers now recognize when a cookie is offered and allow you to reject or accept cookies. If you are not sure whether your browser has this capability, you should check with the manufacturer of your browser application.

In the event that Chrysalid has a change to its client privacy policy that would allow it to disclose non-public information not covered under applicable law, Chrysalid will allow its clients the opportunity to opt-out of such disclosure.

How We Protect Your Personal Information

Privacy has always been important to Chrysalid. We restrict and limit access to client information only to those who need to carry out their business functions. We safeguard client information by preventing its unauthorized access, disclosure, or use. We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect your confidential personal information. Arrangements with companies or independent contractors not affiliated with Chrysalid will be subject to confidentiality agreements and/or Privacy Policy.

Former Clients

Even if we cease to provide you with financial services, our Privacy Policy will continue to apply to you, and we will continue to treat your nonpublic information with strict confidentiality. We maintain all records regarding all former clients for the retention period required by law.
